Doctor Galaptus.

Set upon the corner of a house, at the junction of two streets at the old north end of Boston, is a bust of Æsculapius. For many many years it has been the visible sign that there is a drug store below

Some time ago two visitors to the city went prowling about this ancient and historic ground once so aristocratic and now so squalid and they came upon the bust, for the presence of which they were not prepared Still it seemed to them noteworthy, and they went into a shop to ask about it

The clerk was most obliging and courteous

Oh that 'bo said "That's old Dr Galaptus I don't rightly know who he was but I've an idea he used to practice down here!"—Youth's Companion.

Warmed by Their Dollars.

A trick of Canadian girls to keep the hands warm in severe weather is worth noting They heat a number of silver dollars and slip them into a netted purse, carrying the latter in their muffs. The coins, treated in this way, retain the heat for several hours and can be utilized thrust inside the dress to protect the chest, or put about the throat, or applied almost anywhere about the body where the cold is most felt —New York Times

Out of Place.

"What," asked the king in the play, "are those Roman citizens doing over there?"

"Your majesty" responded the herald, "they are believed to be forming a plot"

"Tell them they mustn't," commanded the monarch, with asperity, not unmingled with ennui "Admonish them that they are throwing their time away Plots have no place in this kind of drama"

With which the king turned to the audience and sang with fine effect, 'Her Auburn Tresses Wouldn't Stay In Curl'"—Detroit Tribune

A Realistic Dream.

Taking the other day, as a brief respite from labor, a little nap at my desk, I had a dream. I dreamed that I was smoking, and that I had swallowed a lot of smoke I awoke coughing. Wasn't that kind of curious?"—New York Sun

Rockers

Rocking chairs of the styles prevailing nowadays are believed to have been invented in the present century They are mentioned by Venerable Bede "The women now are so luxurious that they do have chairs with wooden circles on the legs and which sway back and forth in such sort that it maketh one sick to behold them"

Gently Said.

"Really, Mr Stalate," she persisted, "you have given me four hours of your time this evening"

"Why—er—upon my word! So I have The hours pass like minutes when I am with you"

"You were telling me that since your promotion your time is valuable"

"Yes"

"Well, papa doesn't allow me to receive expensive presents from young men"—Washington Star

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL.

SATURDAY, APRIL 13, 1895.

THE TARIFF NOT THE QUESTION.

Governor McKinley, in his swing around the circle, ignores the financial question, which is the general subject of discussion. Like all goldbugs, Major McKinley endeavors to make it appear that the scarcity of money is not the cause of the business depression. In his speech at the banquet given him at Hartford, Connecticut, aside from his general criticisms of the Democratic Administration his remarks were wholly devoted to the tariff. Commenting on this the San Francisco Chronicle says:

"But it may well be doubted if the judgment of the people will approve of the idea that the financial ills which wrecked the Administration can be traced to the tariff. Practically the Wilson tariff bill is just as much a protective act as the McKinley bill. The shrinkage in values throughout the world since 1890 has been far greater than the reduction in duties. The duties now paid are really higher proportionately on many of the principal articles of import than they were under the McKinley law.

"However, that is not the question. The mistake which Governor McKinley is making is in attempting to ignore the monetary evil which has brought the country and the whole Western world to the brink of commercial and industrial ruin. The failure of the Democratic party, being in power, to do anything toward solving the money question, has done more to discredit the party than all of its blunders on the tariff. If Governor McKinley cannot understand this he will not be an available candidate in 1896."

A NEW AXIOM.

Senator John P. Jones says: "The decrease of the interest rate has kept even pace with the rise in the value of money. I hold, therefore, that a new axiom should be added to the science of political economy, viz: That as the purchasing power of money increases, its income producing power decreases, and in about the same ratio; and conversely, when the purchasing power of money decreases, its income producing power increases. In other words, when prices rise, interest rises; when prices fall, interest falls."

The truth of the above is evident to many Nevadans. Before silver was demonetized when mining camps were booming and flour $10 per hundred pounds, interest ranged from 15 to 25 per cent per annum. Now the prices of commodities are reduced and so is the interest rate, but unfortunately for many they contracted debts when six bushels of wheat would pay 15 per cent interest, whereas it takes fifteen bushels of wheat to pay 6 per cent interest at the present time.

THE JOURNAL presents its compliments to the Virginia Enterprise and respectfully requests that it correct its assertion that the JOURNAL has advanced remarkable theories of the mint scandal. The JOURNAL stated facts regarding the mint. As a goldbug paper may not know what a fact is, for the edification of the Enterprise the JOURNAL will state that it is Truth, with a very large T.

WILLIAM COURT GULLEY has been elected Speaker of the House of Commons to succeed Sir Arthur Wellesley, who resigned. Gulley is a Liberal and supports Gladstone's Irish policy. He was the Government candidate, the Conservatives voting for Sir Matthew Ridley. The vote stood 286 for Gulley and 274 for Ridley, the Parnellites voting against the Government.

THE Virginia Enterprise, which was among the loudest in demanding the prosecution and punishment of the Carson mint plunderers when it supposed the thieves were Silver men, has, snail-like, hauled in its horns. It not only discourages investigation, but vents its spleen on anybody who does. It makes a very great difference with Nevada goldbugs whose ox is gored.

IN a contested school election case at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Judge Thompson of the District Court held that the Iowa law granting women the right to vote in school and municipal elections involving tax questions is unconstitutional. The ground upon which the opinion is based is that the constitution of the State provides that only male citizens may vote.

A terrific storm swept over Seattle, Washington, Wednesday. The wind blew sixty miles an hour lashing the waters of the Sound into fury. All the telegraph and telephones wires were blown down, steamboats were torn from their moorings and a falling tree struck a train on the Lake Shore road and threw several cars into Lake Washington.

THE South Dakota militia, like the Nevada militia, will have to disband or pay its own expenses. The Legislature reduced the appropriation for the militia from $8,000 to $300, and Governor Sheldon has notified each company that it has the option of disbanding or maintaining its organization and paying its own expenses.

THE silver sentiment is spreading through the east like wild-fire. Persons who have heretofore affiliated with the old parties are rallying under the banner of the American Bimetallic party. The unanswerable arguments of the silver men are as destructive to the goldbugs as cleanliness and kerosene are to bedbugs.

THE CHINESE WAR ENDED.

A Clergyman Tells an Old Story About the Planets.

LONDON THIEVES

They Get Away With $10,000 and Valuable Jewelry.

LONDON, April 12.—Sir Roderick Cameron, a well-known New York ship owner, and daughter were waiting for a train at a railway station to-day. Miss Cameron was robbed of a tin box containing money and valuable jewelry. Up to a late hour this afternoon the police had not obtained the slightest clue to the thief or tin box, which he stole from Miss Cameron. The station master said that when she arrived on the platform Miss Cameron placed the box at her feet, and immediately afterwards some one tapped her on the shoulder. She turned around and the man who touched her apologized for so doing, and when she looked for the box it was gone. The police say it is evident that thieves had been following Sir Roderick Cameron and daughter. The notes and drafts in the tin box were valued at $10,000. The value of the jewelry is not known.

THE CHINESE WAR ENDED.

Terms of Peace Virtually Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Official advices received at the Japanese Legation to-day from Japan indicate that an understanding has been reached between the Japanese and Chinese plenipotentiaries and news of a definite conclusion of peace may be expected at any time. In response to repeated requests of the Chinese plenipotentiaries for an abatement of the demands originally made by them, the Japanese plenipotentiaries have granted some concessions.

Brief as the foregoing official message is it marks the close of the Japan-China war, barring the possibility of course, of some unexpected hitch at the last moment.

FLYING THE YELLOW FLAG.

Smallpox, Not Gold, This Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The steamer Coptic, the latest addition to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's service, arrived to-day, flying the yellow flag. Soon after the Coptic left Honkong two of her firemen were stricken with smallpox. The steamer was fumigated and sent to quarantine for fourteen days. The Coptic brought an exceptionally large number of passengers, among them twenty-five American naval officers returning from the Asiatic squadron.

AN OLD STORY.

What a Clergyman Says About the Planets.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 12.—Rev. J. S. Hartsell, an Episcopal clergyman, publishes this statement: "On Good Friday, this year, the heavenly bodies which gravitate around the sun will be in exactly the same position relatively to each other and to the earth they occupied the day Christ was crucified. It will be the first time such a thing has occurred since that day."

Eleven years ago a similar report was circulated, but astronomers scoffed at it.

The Suicidal Mania.

WOODLAND, April 12.—Daniel Bayha, a young German, made a desperate attempt to commit suicide Thursday evening. He severed his windpipe with a razor and is still conscious, but death is momentarily expected. He was no doubt suffering from a temporary aberation of the mind.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Timothy Collins, a wealthy resident of the Mission, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself in the basement of his residence. He arose early, as was his custom, and went out to the yard. Later his wife hearing groans, went down to the cellar and discovered the inanimate form of her husband. He was cut down by his sons.

An attempt at suicide was made in Virginia City this week; a girl drowned herself in San Francisco bay a few days ago, and another tried to end her existence at Amedee.

Cleveland's Pension Policy Condemned.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Representative Kizmiller's resolution condemning the Cleveland Administration for its policy in dealing with pensions came up as a special order in the House and was adopted on a strictly party vote.

WOMEN IN THE SPRING.

They Need Nothing So Much as Paine's Celery Compound.

In the Spring women need Paine's Celery Compound.

The average American woman, says a well known writer, wears herself out twenty years before her time. She begins the wearing-out process as a child, staying up at night until the whole family retires; and keeps it up as a growing girl, staying awake until ten or eleven o'clock, when she should be asleep by nine; and as a woman she has so many things to do and to keep up with, that she positively hasn't a minute to rest.

By and by her cheeks grow thin and haggard, languor takes the place of her old-time high spirits; she has a generally worn-out air; her nerves are gnawed by pain, and sleeplessness makes fearful inroads upon her health.

Her physician tells her simply that her nervous system is exhausted, and that help must come by feeding the brain and entire nervous tract, richly, rapidly, and completely. It is the experience of the most careful medical men in this country that nothing proves so uniformly successful as Paine's Celery Compound in cases of brain-weariness, nervous inability, failure of vital force, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, and for restoring health and vigor to the brain and body when exhausted by overwork or dissipation.

Every such weary, nervous, thin-blooded person should take Paine's Celery Compound. It makes such people well.

Paine's Celery Compound improves the general health by making new, ruddy blood and refreshing the nerves.

It reanimates the languid body, and vitalizes the important organs so that they work in harmony with each other.

The accomplished editor of the Oakland, Ill., Ledger, a portrait of whose wife is given above, says in his own paper, editorially:

"Our leading druggist, Dr. W. G. Gregory, informs us that his sales of Paine's Celery Compound have been wonderful; in fact, he states that he has in six months sold more Celery Compound than all other medicines combined. There has been a constant demand for it.

"One of the noticeable cures that this medicine has made is the case of Mr. Phil Clinard who last spring was Republican candidate for county treasurer. Mr. Clinard's nerves were all unstrung; he had no appetite and was all rundown. He commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and to-day there is not a more well and vigorous citizen in this whole community than Mr. Clinard. Another case that comes closer is that of the wife of the editor of the Ledger. Every one in Oakland knows that Mrs. Yeargin was confined to her bed for three whole months with neuralgia. At times her pains were awful, so much so that her hands would clinch and it took the united strength of two persons to straighten out her fingers. Dr. Gregory, the family physician, treated her for month, but all he could do was to alleviate the pains, not effecting a cure. Along last Winter she commenced using Paine's Celery Compound.

"She commenced to gain in flesh at once. Her pain all went away; her vitality increased weekly, and to-day there is not a more healthy woman in town than she. Her neighbors all marvel at her complete recovery, and ask her the cause, and she has no hesitancy in saying that it is all due to Paine's Celery Compound. This is given voluntarily in the hope that others who are afflicted may be profited by using this great medicine, which to-day is without a peer in the land."

You Don't Have to Swear Off.

Says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture in an editorial about No-To-Bac, the famous tobacco habit cure. "We know of many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one, a prominent St. Louis Architect, smoked and chewed for twenty years; two boxes cured him so that even the smell of tobacco makes him sick." No-To-Bac sold and guaranteed by S. J. Hodgekinson. No cure no pay. Book free. Sterling Remedy Co. New York and Chicago.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

For the cure of all diseases originating in impure blood, the best remedy is

WEATHER BULLETIN.

A Disturbance of Considerable Force—The Tornado Season.

(Copyrighted 1895, by W. T. Foster.)

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 12.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the continent from April 16th, to 20th, and the next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about the 21st, cross the western mountain country by close of the 22d, the great central valleys from the 23d, to 25th, and the Eastern States about the 26th.

This disturbance will be of very considerable force and while only a small portion of the country will receive rain, from it the principal rainfall of the month may be expected as it crosses the continent.

The warm wave will cross the Western Mountain country about the 21st, the Great Central Valleys the 23d, and the Eastern States the 25th. Cool waves will cross the Western Mountain country about the 24th, the Great Central valleys the 26th and the Eastern States the 28th.

TORNADO SEASON.

The time of year is at hand when, in tornado periods, the greatest number of these destroyers usually occur. In April, May and June the greatest number occur in the country bounded by the Rocky Mountains, on the west. Missouri river on the north, Mississippi river on the east, and the Gulf of Mexico on the south. In this district near the Rocky Mountains is the place of greatest security.

From June to August, the favorite locality of these storms, is the large country north of the Ohio and Missouri rivers, including Ohio and westward to the Rockies. Only a few tornadoes occur in this district near the Rockies. The Alleghany Mountains, also, are almost free from tornadoes.

From December to March, south and east of Kentucky are the favorite localities of these storms, more particularly in northern Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

Prof. H. A. Hazen, of the weather bureau, has also made a special study of tornadoes and as he is quite prominent as a forecaster, his views will be of great weight. He declares that; "We may be certain that there is no uniform whirl in tornadoes in either direction. The best evidence we have, scattering of debris, is strongly in favor of the view that there is no whirl. The fact of the existence of a whirl is one of the most important that can be established."

With these conflicting views among the leading scientists of this country, there can be little progress made toward discovering the cause of tornadoes, and if we cannot discover the cause, we can never correctly forecast the times when these destroyers will probably occur.

THE STAR IN THE WEST

Professor Foster Says it Has Much to do With the Weather.

The bright star in the west just after sunset is Venus. It is following and rapidly gaining on the earth, and Professor Foster says it has much to do with our weather. The disc, or face, of this planet changes the same as the moon and with a small telescope it may now be seen as the moon appears at first quarter. On the 18th of September it will pass between the earth and sun and will not then be visible as its dark side will be turned toward us as the moon is at new. Venus occupies the position relative to the earth as now at intervals of about nineteen months. At its nearest point it is twenty-two million miles from the earth and is brightest thirty-six days before and after it passes between the earth and sun and will, therefore, be brightest about August 13th and October 6th.

An Enjoyable Entertainment.

An enjoyable entertainment may be looked for next Tuesday night at McKissick's Opera House when Damon and Pythias will be presented. The Stockton Mail speaks thus of a recent presentation of this play:

"Mrs. Laurie needs but to have her name mentioned in the cast to assure our readers that her part—that of Calanthe, the bride of Pythias—was well sustained. Mrs. Laurie and Little Lizzie lent much strength to the production. Mr. E. S. Laurie, the well-known actor, who has been for some time disabled on account of an accident, acted as stage manager, and much of the success of the entertainment is due to the energy and conscientious hard work he has lavished on the production."

Alexander Wise Cremated.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "The body of State Senator Alexander Wise of Winnemucca, Nev., who died in Santa Monica April 3d, was cremated at Rosedale Cemetery, near Los Angeles, last Friday under the auspices of the Masonic order, of which he was a member in high standing. The deceased was a pioneer Nevadan. He was born in Prussia, January 6, 1835. He arrived on the Pacific Coast at an early age and amassed a considerable fortune, which is left to his widow. He was very highly esteemed by all who knew him.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A Young Lady's Disappointment in a Love Affair the Cause.

A letter received from Amedee last evening gave the following details of the attempted suicide of Miss Laura Strong of Susanville, at Amedee Thursday morning. It seems that the young lady was engaged to be married and went to Amedee expecting to meet her intended husband and be married there. The lover did not arrive, and after waiting four or five days she became moody and appeared greatly worried. Thursday morning she feigned toothache and went to the drug store and procured a phial of opium. She returned to her room at the Hotel Amedee, and in a short time called a man about the hotel and sent him after another phial of the drug. The druggist upon being told who it was for became suspicious and went to the girl's room, but repeated rappings and calls were unheeded by her. The proprietor forced the door of the room and found the girl lying on the bed and the phial that had held the poison empty. When accused of taking the opium she denied it, but her symptoms soon indicated that she had. A telephone message was sent to Susanville for a physician, but the latter realizing that the distance to Amedee could not be covered in time to save her life, the doctor stood at the telephone and directed what should be done, and her fgiends acting under his instructions succeeded after three hours of hard work in saving her life. During the time her friends were trying to save her she fought them and repeatedly told them that if she failed in this attempt she would try it again. In a note addressed to her father in Susanville she gave instructions regarding the disposition of her personal effects, but gave no reason for her rash act. It is thought the non-arrival of her intended so preyed upon her mind that she became despondent and attempted suicide.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Norcross Gives and Interesting Lecture.

Superintendent F. H. Norcross' address on Abraham Lincoln at the High School yesterday afternoon was highly instructive and interesting. His main purposes was to bring out some new facts (to ordinary students at least) in reference to the place of Lincoln's assassination and death. And in this connection his description of Ford's theater and its peculiar history in the last thirty years was most interesting; also the description of the house in which Mr. Lincoln died, and the remarkable collection of Lincoln relics therein contained at the present time.

Mr. Norcross appealed to the young people present to make a careful study of Abraham Lincoln as one who stands foremost among the great characters in our history and in that of the world. He closed his address with a recitation of a remarkable poem on Lincoln published in the London Punch in 1865, soon after the great tragedy.

State Superintendent H. C. Cutting was present and addressed the pupils briefly, promising a more extended visit in the not distant future.

A POLITICAL TRICK.

How They Beat the Australian Ballot Law in Vermont.

The Vermonters find no difficulty in ascertaining how people vote under the Australian law. Political healers having "fixed" a voter, give him, just before he enters the booth, a sheet of soft paper of the same size of the entire ballot and a hard pencil with which to make his marks. Inside the booth he lays the ballot on the soft paper and any marks he may make on the ballot with the pencil show faintly on soft paper. A subsequent comparison of the latter with a ballot proves conclusively how the vote was cast, and no provision of the law has been violated.

If this is not an ingenious method of obtaining evidence that "the goods have been delivered," what is it?

WHOLESOME ADVICE.

Which it is to be Hoped Will be Heeded.

[Silver State.]

During the campaign last Fall the Reno Gazette kept repeating time after time a warning to the cattlemen that Mexican cattle would come in so freely on account of the reduction of duty that the cattle industry of Nevada was ruined, and that the Silver party to a great measure was responsible for it. The situation still remains the same and the cattlemen, instead of receiving less for their beef this Spring, have received more than for many years past, and even the Gazette is now remarking that the present and future looks very promising for the cattle industry; that the price of stock has already advanced $2 per head and with a strong probability of a further advance in the near future. We are glad to see that the Reno organ of the gold trust party is willing to admit that it was a failure as a cattle prophet, and if it would only go further and admit that it has erred as a political adviser during the past two years, and is now glad to acknowledge the mistake and advise the citizens of its section to stand by Nevada as against the world, it would be doing them and itself a great service—more, yes, ten times more, than by advising them to support a political party that is opposed to our every interest, except possibly the wool industry; and it is not likely that if the Republican party should again get into power in 1869 that any action would be taken in reference to the tariff further than to talk about it.

Uncalled for Publicity.

The report that the family of Hamilton Barnett is in a destitute condition and suffering from the necessities of life is unfounded. Sheriff Caughlin visited the residence of Mr. Barnett yesterday and he informs a JOURNAL reporter that there is no foundation for such reports. The house is comfortable there being four rooms; there are good blankets on the beds, and the family has plenty to eat. Mrs. Barnett recently gave birth to still-born twins having been injured by being thrown out of a buggy. She begged her husband to keep the bodies until she got out of bed, which she expected to be able to do in a day or two. Relatives and neighbors were attending Mrs. Barnett and she was cared for as well as circumstances would permit and did not suffer from lack of attention.

Wm. Thompson as a Trader.

A man approached Wm. Thompson yesterday and wanted to buy a horse. After the usual bickering he offered to take $2 50 for the horse and take it out in wood at three bits a cord. The man, thinking he had cooned Thompson on the trade, took him up and led the horse away. The trade resulted in the man getting the horse for $2 50, but he will have to deliver Thompson about six and one half cords of wood, worth $5 per cord.

Cure For Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only fifty cents at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

THE EVOLUTION

Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs, pills, draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective laxative, Syrup of Figs. To get the true remedy see that it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co only. For sale by all leading druggists.

And want to look quite "chic,"
Just buy one with a trolly, O,
And you'll catch one mighty quick.

Oh! golly girls! it's just "the thing,"
The latest fad you bet,
To have your "Dude" held by a string,
So ne'er away it can get.

There's not a girl, that e'er you meet,
That does not say it's pretty,
And if she has some coin you bet,
She'll buy one in a "jiffy,"

For a "tally-ho," go to Miss Motley's.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

The store formerly occupied by the firm of F. Levy & Bro. is now being remodeled and renovated, and will be re-opened at an early date by Sol Levy, as successor to the old firm. In view of this, it is earnestly requested that all parties owing the old firm will settle their accounts as speedily as possible, so that the affairs of the former concern can be closed up.

Mr. Sol Levy will conduct the new store on strictly Eastern principles, including prices. Spot cash will be the rule, thus giving patrons the best advantages of purchase and a choice line of goods in every department.

The date of opening will be announced in due time, and it will be an eventful one in the history of the dry and fancy goods business of Reno.

FIERCE ANIMALS OF THE FOREST WHO HAVE PREJUDICES

Wolves, Panthers and Bears Sensitive About Fur Overcoats—An Aged Sullivan County Hunter Tells Some Experiences Illustrating This Queer Fact.

"A bear or a panther can't stand the sight of a wolfskin or a coonskin overcoat," said an aged hunter of Sullivan county, "and both also dislike the looks of an overcoat made of buffalo skin They become enraged when they see a hunter striding through the woods with a fur coat on They will start for him the instant they get sight of him, and unless he stops them with a rifle ball or a charge of buckshot they will invariably tackle him A wolf or even a pack of them will always turn tail and run away from a hunter that wears a wolf skin coat, but they will chase a man who wears a coat of any other kind of fur and will attack him if they get a chance In the winters early in the forties I hunted panthers, wolves and bears, killing a deer once in awhile for a change When the weather was bitter cold, I wore a coonskin overcoat until a panther ruined it, and here is what is left of it

"I killed an even dozen of panthers and a score of wolves while wearing that coat It was in January, 1844, that I had to stop wearing it. One very cold morning I put on my snowshoes and started for the head of Kitchen's creek to hunt panthers and wolves. The snow was three feet deep in the woods, and the wolves and panthers were slaughtering the deer at a frightful rate In a spruce ravine to the right of the creek I saw a movement in an evergreen tree and raised my rifle for what I thought might be a panther

"I hadn't been standing a minute when I heard a twig snap back of me, and before I could turn half way round something struck my back and drove me forward on my hands and knees. Of course I instantly realized that a panther had landed on my back It stuck its claws into my shoulders and began to kick with its hind feet, snarling and tearing at the coonskin with its teeth I knew in a second that the only thing for me to do was to throw myself backward, and this I did at once, burying the panther in the snow beneath me The panther then started to scream, but the snow and my weight kept it from making much noise It continued to claw great rents in the coonskin coat until I stabbed it three times in the side, when it stopped kicking and began to gasp I knew that the point of the knife had touched a vital spot, so I lay still till the panther stretched out dead Then I got up and pulled the beast out of the snow by the tail I'd hardly dropped it on the surface than there was another movement in the evergreen tree

"This time I spied a pair of eyes on a limb about 15 feet above the snow and blazed away at them A panther tumbled out, began to pitch and dive in the snow, soon turning up its toes Then I pulled off the overcoat and discovered that the panther had ruined it The claws hadn't touched my flesh, though, for I wore three thicknesses of deerskin and two of wool under the overcoat On that trip of three days I got five panthers and four wolves

"The same winter I surprised a pack of wolves that had cornered three deer in a pen up in the Mehoopany country I had on a wolfskin coat, and the wolves legged it out of the pen the moment they got sight of me. I pulled off the coat and put it behind a tree, and the wolves, when they stopped to look back, acted as if they had been scared by a false alarm When they saw that the overcoat wasn't in sight, they didn't care any more for me than for a sapling. They immediately returned to the deer pen as bold as you please, and I shot the whole five as fast as I could load and fire

"One winter Joel Wright, who used to hunt and trap all the way from the Loyalsock to the Mehoopany, rolled up his coonskin overcoat and placed it on a log in the woods till he could go over a knoll and look at one of his traps. When he got to the top of the knoll on his way back, he heard a bear bellowing down in the hollow, as if it was challenging another bear to fight with him In a minute Joel caught sight of the noisy bear but couldn't make out where the other one was. The challenger was slouching toward the log on which the coonskin overcoat lay in a bunch, and Joel made up his mind that the bear had got scent of the coat and was about to tackle it.

"Joel had a better fur coat at home, and he didn't care much what the bear did with the one on the log Anyhow he was going to watch the bear, and, if he got the better of the coat, all right He could see that the fellow was angry before he got within ten rods of the log Rushing up to the log, the bear seized the overcoat in his paws and began to squeeze and shake it as if it was a thing of life that he held an old grudge against Joel trampled down the knoll then to see all the fun at short range, and pretty soon the bear gave the coat a dreadful hug let out a yell, fell over backward and went to sprawling and rolling in the snow Joel knew what the trouble was but he didn't say a word The bear had had his own way, and he was as dead as a flint when Joel got to him. Joel's hunting-knife was in a pocket of the overcoat, and the point of it had pierced the heart of the angry animal when he hugged the coat to his breast in a fit of rage."—Scranton Letter in New York Sun.
